

Best Practice: Port Security Information Brochure

Category:	Communications
Location:	Ports of Luganville and Port Vila, Vanuatu
Date Observed:	July 2007
POC:	The Department of Ports and Harbors
WWW:	N/A

Description: The Department of Ports and Harbors create brochures to educate visitors on port security.

Discussion: The brochures are given out to port visitors to inform them of different security related matters that pertain to the port. Such items included in the brochure include emergency procedures and contact numbers of security personnel.

Potential Down-side: No potential downside is identified.

Conclusion: This is a great way to educate port customers and stakeholders about port security.

Cost: The cost to create the brochures is minimal.
