Description: The facility has a security awareness incentive program that awards prizes to employees that demonstrate excellence in their knowledge and implementation of security and safety measures.

Discussion: This is a creative and relatively easy approach to encourage employees to maintain high security and safety awareness while on facility grounds.

Potential Down-side: No potential down-side identified.

Conclusion: This is a positive approach to try and keep the security awareness at a constant elevated level.

Cost: The cost of prizes can vary depending on the funding the facility has available.
